5th march 2021

Dear members of ICMH and fellow military historians,

I am glad to inform you that the website of our next XLVI International Congress scheduled from 29th August to 3rd September 2021 is online and can be seen at the address <https://internationalcongress2021.mil.gr/>. A specific direct link will soon appear on the ICMH own website.

As hosting Commission, the Hellenic Commission of Military History, chaired by Major General Georgios Rachmanidis, has featured a very complete and attractive website with all the necessary information available at this time.

I invite all those interested to fill the pre-registration form.

While we earnestly hope that it will be possible to stage a full-fledged Congress in presence according to our usual pattern, understandably a final decision has to wait until the end of April according to the evolution of the sanitary situation.

I hope to find all of you well and safe and I convey you my best greetings
